Ali,

The situation has recently changed as far as the cable laying is concerned. This is now being undertaken by Western Power and the cable routes will no longer form part of this application.

In light of this, are you happy with the survey area we are proposing?

We will assess all habitats in this area for breeding bird potential and it is already a condition that breeding bird surveys will be undertaken within the development area.

Regards

Will

You might wish to see if your clients want the survey extended to the red line boundary to cover the proposed cable laying. That would also require hedgerow survey, as I have just responded to our planners. If the survey is to be carried out at this time of year you should consider potential of affected areas to support breeding birds (including ground nesters) and any need for further survey in the breeding season.

I will be on leave after today until Feb 27th.

Ali,

Attached is a plan of the site layout and land ownership at Three Nooks Farm.

We plan on visiting the site and carrying out surveys of the barn (red) for the potential to support bats and Barn Owl and also conducting a Phase 1 survey and protected species walkover for the rest of the site (the area within the blue dashed line). This will include an assessment for Badger evidence and any early breeding bird evidence.

Could you please confirm that you are happy with the extent of the survey (area covered) and the types of survey which we are proposing?

Regards

Will
